Roberta Herzberg, Utah State University

Dr. Roberta Q. Herzberg is Associate Professor of Political Science at Utah State University with a specialization in U.S. public policy and political economy.

She received her Ph.D. in political economy from Washington University in St. Louis. Her primary research interests focus on health policy, education policy, economic policy and the design of incentive-compatible institutions. She has been an active participant in the Utah health policy process since the 1990's and has served on many Utah policy committees and commissions including the Utah Health Advisory Council, the Utah Health Policy Commission, the Small Employer Health Benefits study group, and the Medical Education Council.